NATIONAL CATASTROPHE

LONDON, May 29.- "Whoever expected to see the Bulgarian flag supplant the Greek flag in Mace-donia? Just for this we have maintained mobilization at the cost of the economic ruin of the country." M. Venizelos, the former premier, thus writes in the Herald, the Venizelos organ. Feeling runs high over the Bulgarian invasion of Greece. The Herald appeared today with a black border as a token of national mourning.
